NEW PATENT SHAFT COUPLING!
W. E. COOPER

HAS PURCHASED THE RIGHT FOR THIS County of the above Patent and will hereafter use it in the construction of all the Vehicles manufactured at his extensive Carriage Factory,
Corner of Second and Morrison Streets
He respectfully refers to the following
CARD.

Having examined the New Patent Shaft Coupling invented by H R Hoagland we feel pleasure in informing the public that in our opinion it is the safest and best method of connecting shafts or tongues to all vehicles that has ever been used.

It fastens without bolt or screw and is therefore easily and speedily separated. It requires no Gutta Percha so as to be entirely free from the rattling sound which so often disturbs restless horses. It is easily changed so that the shafts or tongue may be detached in an instant and is convenient, safe and secure.

It is easy to change to this style of coupling any buggy or other vehicle now in use and with small expense. We have come to the conclusion to use this new invention ourselves and recommend its use in all cases. We consider it far superior to the Brewster Patent [illegible] before considered the best [illegible]

Who Killed the Confederacy?

A Washington correspondent [illegible] class [illegible] style [illegible] statement [illegible] published the following paragraph which [illegible] been going the rounds of the Southern [illegible] papers with strong [illegible] of the [illegible] tion and [illegible]

The [illegible] ground that [illegible] had not put the war [illegible] McClellan [illegible] would in all human probability have come out as well [illegible] as he was. These [illegible] great [illegible] that [illegible] had no longer the fierce [illegible] them [illegible] back into Washington. The war had ended in the South nearly a year before we learned the fact at the North.

E. A. Pollard, the Southern historian takes up this paragraph and makes it the basis of a long letter to the New York Tribune. He first shows that the comparison between McClellan and Grant is unfair to the latter and second that the generalship of Grant and the incompetency of the rebel Administration finished the Confederacy. Of the comparison between McClellan and Grant to the disparagement of the latter the writer says:

To the [illegible] with the comparative condition of the Southern Confederacy at different [illegible] of the war, the fact is certain that with reference to the inferiority of numbers opposed in the Confederate side Gen McClellan had in the year 1862 advantages greater than Grant or any Northern commander ever had. He had these advantages steadily inviting him for [illegible] but he did not avail himself of them and that there was at last an accumulation of Confederate numbers allowed by him sufficient [illegible] excuse [illegible] the additional charge of [illegible] and imbecility. In February 1862 when urged by President Lincoln to advance when the Federal troops in Virginia and about Washington numbered 191,142 and what McClellan himself [illegible] that his "Grand Army" was magnificent in material, admirable in discipline and instruction, excellently equipped and armed," he had on his front, to dispute his passage to Richmond, a force which numbered of all arms a little more than twenty-seven thousand men. This estimate of the Confederate army at Manassas is from a staff officer of Gen Joseph E Johnston its commander and must be taken as authentic. More than this that little army was in the early month of 1862 in the saddest state of disorganization having been turned into an electioneering camp by the folly of the Confederate Congress and says a staff officer of Gen Stonewall Jackson "had McClellan then advanced he would have found little else than demoralized men, disgracing the uniform of soldiers covering the way to Richmond."

Did Grant ever have such a chance? And if McClellan did not use it, is not the act of omission in a military commander to be taken as proof of inferior generalship quite as well as that of commission?

Again, when McClellan went down to Yorktown and opened another campaign there the "fierce army" that then opposed him was exactly seven thousand five hundred men. Gen Magruder commanded all that was then in the pathway of McClellan while the bulk of the Confederate forces was still in motion in the neighborhood of the Rappahannock and the Rapidan and he had no assurance of reinforcements. The force of McClellan was then ten times his own. They had commenced a daily cannonading upon his lines and a council of general officers was convened to consult whether the little army of 7,500 men should maintain its position in the face of ten-fold odds or retire before the enemy. The opinion was unanimous for the latter alternative with the exception of one officer who declared that every man should die in the intrenchments before the little army should fall back! "By G— it shall be so," was the sudden exclamation of Gen Magruder in sympathy with the gallant suggestion. And so Richmond was saved.

McClellan was defeated at last by an army not greatly inferior in numbers, which he had supinely allowed to be drawn in from the ends of the Confederacy. But so far from its being a "fierce army" we report the fact as it came from the lips of Gen Lee. Nearly [illegible] of this were raw conscripts who had never been under fire and were only half instructed.

If any fair [illegible] is to be held between McClellan's [illegible] as to the numbers of forces which opposed them in their respective campaigns in Virginia [illegible] as to the veteran material of these forces, their condition of discipline and in general their formidable character we shall have no hesitation in deciding who was the greatest General. The test is not the most certain one, but the correspondent referred to has chosen to interpose it, and however insignificant this act of ingenuity may be in his own person there are not a few Southern newspapers which have [illegible] adopted it.

As to the general question of comparative merits as commanders between McClellan and Grant, what we have said of the former suggests the main difference between the rivals. McClellan may have been an excellent organizer of armies; it has been said of him that he had the [illegible] of war without its inspiration. There could be no greater contrast to his [illegible] the [illegible] of order, the slow genius of [illegible] than those [illegible] in Grant which gave him [illegible] great [illegible] that he [illegible] irregular simply because it never calculated the inferior circumstances of the situation. His military genius might have been the [illegible] and ponderous one of a commander determined to conquer by repeated strokes of physical force, but no one can doubt the readiness and determination with which he struck at all times. If he had no finesse he had no [illegible]. He was never [illegible] that nice [illegible] details which [illegible] always [illegible] and readying which never realizes properly the [illegible] desires [illegible] instead of making ready [illegible] a constant [illegible] readiness and [illegible]

Pollard further [illegible] that in the spring of the year 1864 Gen Grant fought against advantages at which McClellan would have been appalled, that the Confederacy at last in Virginia was far stronger then to expel him than it was to drive McClellan from Manassas [illegible] Yorktown. After a long arraignment of the Davis Administration Pollard closes his letter thus:

The [illegible] Confederacy was never [illegible] by the [illegible] Davis [illegible] to [illegible] state. There was no [illegible] the collapse [illegible] and completely [illegible] Jefferson Davis was [illegible] Richmond [illegible] 1861 [illegible] he would be [illegible] was leveled [illegible] would [illegible] years of [illegible] water in the [illegible] four days. The [illegible] bargain [illegible] $ [illegible] the [illegible] of the tall black beaver hat [illegible] the world with schemes of raising national revenues by [illegible] black bags [illegible] expended [illegible] long reaching [illegible] the [illegible] that were to have been built [illegible] and [illegible] shoes and the [illegible] treasures that were to be amassed of gifts [illegible] sugar [illegible] have passed away [illegible] grotesque [illegible] of the Southern Confederacy.

Bailey the Absconding Collector

The New York Herald of March 2[illegible] has a [illegible] of Collector Bailey's antecedents [illegible] of [illegible] and his means of raising the wind [illegible] we clip the following:

BAILEY'S BONDSMEN

Were changed last January in consequence of the death of one of their number. The following [illegible] gives the present [illegible]

To the Editor of the Herald

Noticing an inaccurate statement in regard to Collector Bailey's bond I desire to correct it by saying that about the middle of last January on account of the death of Henry J. Raymond one of the old bondsmen I drew up for Mr Bailey a new bond which was signed by Messrs George Opdyke, Henry Clews, Thomas C. Durant, George Douglas and John H. Dillber as sureties.

The last bond was approved by Mr Pierrepont, United States District Attorney, and sent to Washington about the 16th of January 1870 and accepted by the Department.

CHARLES HARRIS PHELPS,
Notary Public, 21 Nassau street
March 21 1870

AN INTERESTING CHAPTER

Is afforded by a sketch of Bailey's antecedents for the last nine years. In 1861 he was appointed a clerk in the Treasury Department at Washington in which city he married, and where he lived at the time in reduced circumstances. After occupying that position a short period he was made a special agent of the Department and assigned to duty in New York. While acting in that capacity he became a favorite of Secretaries Chase and McCulloch and in 1866 was appointed Collector of Internal Revenue for the Fourth district. He had great difficulty in getting his appointment to the Thirty second district confirmed by the Senate and is known to have paid large sums of money to certain individuals not of Congress as counsel fees for services rendered in his confirmation campaign.

His mode of living had been for the last three or four years rather extravagant, especially in the matter of wines, dinners and horses. He drove a crack team, had a wine cellar stocked with a large assortment of the choicest brands and gave most expensive public dinners to prominent public men. The house occupied by him in Twenty second street was rented, but the furniture all of which belongs to Bailey is of the most elegant description. The stock of the wine cellar is expected to sell for a large sum in the settlement of the estate, which also includes an interest in two valuable pieces of property in New Jersey.

THE TOBACCO MERCHANTS

of the Thirty second district are preparing voluminous statements [illegible] a shameful system of extortion and blackmail. One official in Bailey's office is characterized as being "worse than fire" among the tobacco establishments, and the details of his operations in forcing dealers to make settlements with him would fill a volume. The sums paid by firms to prevent the seizure of their establishments ran from $200 to $1,000, and were handed out by the houses, not from fear of conviction of fraud, but to prevent the damage and almost inevitable ruin to their credit and business which attend the seizure of stock. They found it cheaper and more expedient to pay a thousand dollars in cases where there were no grounds whatever for seizure rather than to have their establishments taken possession of, and suffer financial disaster while awaiting the process of examination and vindication by the courts. These outrages were practised upon all classes of tobacco dealers and were so cunningly managed that in a majority of cases the victim would become utterly demoralized and pay almost anything to anybody to be let alone. Some firms were too well posted to be caught and after a good deal of fuss and threatening by the man denounced as worse than a fire [illegible] from him the most [illegible] attention, he evidently discovering it to be unsafe for him to incite them to a fight in the courts. The individual referred to is expected by the tobacco dealers to give place to an honest man under the new regime.

BAILEY AMONG THE LIQUOR MERCHANTS

No man was ever more cordially hated than Mr Bailey is by the liquor merchants. He placed himself at [illegible] receiving his appointment as Collector [illegible] the Fourth district in hostility to them and kept it up with unrelenting rigor to the last moment of his little brief authority, through [illegible] which he brought them [illegible] disgust. After his appointment as Collector of the Thirty-second district with a view if possible to prevent his confirmation they got up that printed pamphlet entitled "Reasons Against the Confirmation of Mr Bailey as Collector of the Thirty second District," and from which copious extracts have been made by some of the papers and the same put forward before the public as fresh matter. Among these as showing his method of settling cases, is the following receipt which long since clothed in the panoplied dignity of type came under the eyes of our United States Senators, but which it seems were [illegible] in accomplishing the result sought for by those taking the trouble to print them. Here is the receipt which tells its own story of alleged [illegible] for [illegible] better than it [illegible] their way:—

In this case it is only fair to state however that Mr Bailey withheld this money from the Government for five months without making any report of it in Government account or report of it as [illegible] itself an alleged felony under the law and [illegible] it only when a suit was threatened against him for its recovery and matters were assuming a [illegible] heated climax for him to hold on to it any longer.

[illegible]

The above is but the beginning of the [illegible] alleged malfeasance [illegible] the 1st day of October [illegible] he seized the establishment of Joseph Jones & Co [illegible] and [illegible] by the way on his [illegible] and was [illegible] paid $47,000 to effect [illegible] but for this money [illegible] a receipt [illegible] for $ [illegible] He seized the place of [illegible] and [illegible] $2,000 [illegible] of which only $1,000 was deposited to the Government account, the checks for the remainder being endorsed by Mr Bailey in his private capacity. In reference to this very case a prominent liquor merchant says that Commissioner Delano refused any explanation when applied to for information as to the disposition of the money. The original checks were [illegible] and their precise disposition [illegible] It is explained by the fact that M[illegible] have been [illegible] but [illegible] have had [illegible] with him as to the division of [illegible] of his office. In this [illegible] well enough to explain.

[illegible] that it was his mode of [illegible] and hold property and accept large [illegible] of money [illegible] Internal Revenue. This leaning [illegible] the decision [illegible] chief of the Internal [illegible] have been apparent [illegible] over the eyes of his [illegible] testimony [illegible] those matters himself. If the [illegible] was he at [illegible] of [illegible] eyes [illegible] money and [illegible] was it recovered unless Mr Bailey became severely frightened and feared [illegible] from his fat place as the result of exposure. In fact it is claimed that in all these cases he committed exactly the offenses of which at his instance Judge Fullerton was accused. His entire business in fact, is said to have been conducted on a both in a large and a small way but altogether aggregating an immense sum. A certain [illegible] man who was [illegible] deputies [illegible] the Fourth district is said to have been his principal instrument in the minor blackmailing cases. His field of operations is said to have been the [illegible] of [illegible] language [illegible] the Internal Revenue law were very easily imposed upon from whom he is said to have extorted large sums of money through [illegible] on their part, and which [illegible] were divided with Mr Bailey.

The New York Star remarks that the [illegible] of army officers who have seen service on the Plains is uniform in its approval of the mode of warfare adopted by General Sheridan. They go even further, and claim that the only preventive of a recurrence of the bloody tragedies which are household words with the settlers, is extermination.

Boston has fixed an exact value on human life. A druggist at the "Hub" who killed one of his customers by giving him laudanum instead of rhubarb has been tried, found guilty, and sentenced to pay a fine of $100. This is [illegible] cheap and reminds one of the witty Frenchman's reflection on the unfairness of the law. Said the the humorous son of France "If I shoot [illegible] a druggist I am guillotined; if a druggist [illegible] me, he is only fined."

Don Piatt laments the [illegible] of the race as seen in the spindle-shanked whiffets, with blue ties and slim umbrellas, who walk with a long stride suggestive of [illegible] in post-prandial vibrations. He declares that a Washington girl graduates half fledged into all fashions, and [illegible] a leader of society to churn up nights [illegible] bad champagne, sour ice cream, and indigestible cake in round dances until she captures a whiffet, and becomes the weakly mother of whiffets.

The Nevada Gazette of March 25th records a remarkable fact in regard to the depreciation of property in a once famous mining section. Among other property belonging to the [illegible] of W. H. Leavitt, which was sold yesterday by their assignee, for the benefit of their creditors, was a large hotel at Meadow Lake, which originally cost $16,000, and which was knocked down to J. B. Dunn for the sum of $7. This is a fair illustration of the depreciation of property in some of our mining camps, and [illegible] almost incredible to those not familiar with the growth of California towns. A friend of ours who is well acquainted with the property, and qualified to judge of the future prospects of Meadow Lake says it would be a bad investment at seven cents.

The manufacture of iron is beginning to receive attention in Utah and a company is being organized for the purpose. That iron ore exists in Utah in vast quantities is a known fact; the only thing is to reduce it to malleable iron. A piece of worked metal made recently in an experiment was as smooth and fine-grained as Swedish iron. This movement if successfully prosecuted, will bring a valuable addition to the industrial resources of the Territory and will be a benefit to the surrounding country. It is not possible at present to speak with any degree of certainty of what will be accomplished by the proposed organization as it is still in a somewhat embryotic state, but the iron ore cannot long remain in its native condition. Enterprise and [illegible] from some quarter will not fail to utilize it before a great while.

FRIDAY MORNING APRIL 8 1870

The Republican Candidates

The unanimity of the [illegible] Convention was strikingly exemplified in the leading nominations last evening, which were made by acclamation [illegible] unwonted harmony and presage the best results in the election [illegible] in the politics of Oregon where for many years the nominations [illegible] of both parties have been strongly and sometimes bitterly contested

The nomination of Judge Wilson for Congress is the result of a spontaneous movement of the Republican party which commenced at the time when the present political campaign began to engage attention. By common consent he has received this nomination, and the Convention has but expressed the united voice of the party in the matter. No man in Oregon is better known and his abilities none can question. Standing squarely on the platform adopted by the Convention, and attacking the doctrines of the faithless, repudiating Democracy, he will have an advantage over his adversary which he will not fail to use with tremendous effect and we may be sure that the cause of the Republican party will not suffer in his hands. His speech on receiving the nomination was a manly, forcible effort. This morning at five o clock he starts for the Eastern part of the State to meet Mr Slater who with a disregard of courtesy never before witnessed has published his appointments to suit his own convenience, and then asked his opponent to meet him. In order to meet Mr. Slater at his first appointment Mr. Wilson will be compelled to travel constantly until Thursday next, the day on which Slater will open in Baker county. But Wilson will be there, and will give his kindest attentions to Slater till the close of the canvass

For Governor, the Republicans present the name of Gen Joel Palmer. There is scarcely a person in the State who needs to be told who Gen. Palmer is. For twenty five years Oregon has been his home. There is no man among us who is more fully identified with the growth and progress of the State, there is no man who has devoted himself more unselfishly to the interests of Oregon. He has been tried in various public positions during a long period, and his reputation for integrity and for honest performance of duty, is spotless. That the honor of the State and all its interests will be safe in his hands none can q[illegible] and he will receive a vote which will make the candidate of the repudiators more cautious than to say another time that his party "can't make a platform he wouldn't stand on."

James Elkins of Linn county, the candidate for Secretary of State, is a young man of fine talents, and of accomplishments which peculiarly fit him for the position. Meyer Hirsch, candidate for Treasurer, is a well known and successful merchant of Salem, who has been in business there for several [illegible]. His name, which is widely known, especially in business circles, is a sufficient guarantee for the proper discharge of the duties of the position for which he is named. The ticket will be completed to-day.

[illegible] and Republican Platform.

If anybody is looking for opposite things to set in contrast let him take the platforms of the two parties in Oregon. Everybody knows what the Democratic platform is, as two weeks have elapsed since that proclamation of dishonor and manifesto of disgrace was first published. People who read it with indignation, and whose honest blood boiled at this attempt to place Oregon in a position that would [illegible] dishonor her, will now have an opportunity to consider a platform of a very different nature. Not only Republicans, but Democrats of honest purposes, will read it with satisfaction. It meets fully every requirement of the times, and the way in which it answers the repudiation doctrines of the "vital eighth resolution" of the Albany platform will tell with some effect in a canvass in which honest people feel that their reputation is at stake. Let the two platforms be [illegible] together, let the unreasonable, violent and dishonorable propositions put forth at Albany and addressed apparently to the elements that form the substratum of society, be compared with the liberal straightforward and practical propositions contained in the platform promulgated by the Republican Convention, and then let the intelligent citizen decide for himself which party is the more worthy of his support. Let him decide, as he easily can, which party can best serve the people and the country.

Editorial Notes

The facetious man of the Herald suggests that as the Republican Delegates engaged considerably in "burning," an appropriate name for them would be "[illegible]." We cannot say as to that, but we can say that the Republican party of Oregon proposes to pick the bones of the Democracy at the next election.

The platform of the Washington Territory Democrats contains seven resolutions. Taking warning by the fate of the Oregon repudiators the Washington Territory brethren stopped short at this, and thus avoided the "vital eighth resolution" as the Portland organ calls it on which the Oregon Democracy have been wrecked.

One of the most electrifying scenes of the State Convention last evening was when Gen Palmer, who was about to retire from the stand after accepting the nomination for Governor, was met by Gov Woods and greeted as "the next Governor of Oregon." The few manly, well-chosen and eloquent words spoken by Gov Woods as he stood clasping the hand of Gen Palmer thrilled and roused the vast audience as no speech of the same length ever did in Oregon. The whole house as if moved by a single impulse, broke out in tremendous and prolonged applause.

Says the Herald: "The Secretary of the Treasury says his statements (relative to a reduction of the public debt) are true. We are informed, and believe that they are not and therefore file a general denial. The Secretary must now support his allegations by affirmative evidence or judgment is confessed." Of course the Secretary may now consider the truth of his statements impeached. Now that a little organ of the backwoods Democracy, with its circulation of a few hundred copies has made this positive denial the Secretary "must bring affirmative proof or the case is decided against him!" It matters not that his statements are believed in all the financial circles of the world, as is evidenced by the rapid rise of American securities, the aforesaid "organ" says they are not true, and of course therefore they can't be! The Secretary may as well submit to this humiliating exposure and resign at once.

Gold Bonds and Politics

[illegible] as the tariff theory of the Democracy, which the New York Tribune [illegible] lated a short time since in Congress on a direct vote by its own friends. When Mr Pendleton proclaimed the greenback theory which [illegible] put it up to 200. As greenbacks were consequently [illegible] to pay off our indebtedness or at least to put it in such a shape that there would be no possibility of any further attempts at paying it off. If this plan seemed to honest men repudiation or fraud, Mr Pendleton at once showed that we could never liquidate our indebtedness by any other means. He appealed to statistics, history and logic as his proofs and as most people are not altogether masters of these branches of knowledge he was able to confuse somewhat the public consciousness as well as the public conscience.

It is quite possible that Mr Pendleton himself still holds on to his greenback theory just as it is said that Jeff Davis still holds on to his theory of secession. He could doubtless show that the fall of gold is a mistake, that the advance of our bonds to their face value in coin is fictitious, that the approximation of greenbacks to par is but a temporary movement. But we do not believe he would meet with such success now as he had two or three years ago in convincing people of the truth of his financial theories and we do not believe he would be anxious to run for the Presidency again on the platform he formerly constructed. The arguments which then seemed quite plausible would now appear preposterous even to a Democratic crowd anywhere else than in Oregon, and Mr Pendleton would find himself, with all his figures, in the position of the street preacher who mounting on the top of a barrel the end of which immediately fell in, was the object of jeers and laughter instead of grave attention.

In practically showing the fallacy and futility of a theory which was always evidently dishonest, President Grant has rendered to the country one of the greatest of the many services for which it is indebted to his Administration. Any deviation from the highest standard of morals and justice either by an individual or a nation, is always foolish as well as wicked, but people are apt to forget the danger which is involved and the penalties that are incurred by giving way to temptations which lead to the violation of the country's faith and honor. We now see where we would have been plunged by the dishonest and short-sighted policy of the Democratic leaders, we can now appreciate the immense advantages that have been gained by the national determination to carry out a policy of honesty and good faith. If our credit now stands high in the markets of the world, it is because the Republican party and principles prevailed. If our Debt is diminishing, so that there is a prospect of its altogether disappearing, by honest means, within reasonable time, it is because Pendletonianism and Democracy were overthrown. If gold has gone down till our bonds and greenbacks approach par, it is because Grant was elected. If, as Americans, we are able to hold up our heads proudly while abroad, instead of appearing with the conscious sense of disgrace—if our country commands the respect of the world, and enjoys self respect,—if we are able to look forward to a prosperous future, it is because the Democratic faction of repudiation was crushed by the inflexible devotion to principle of the Republican party.

An attempt has been made in Oregon to revive the doctrine of repudiation in its worst form, but the people will act here as becomes a people of honest instincts and honorable purposes, and put repudiation and all its advocates down.

A Shameful Diatribe

We should do many Democrats a grievous wrong did we attribute to them a share in such sentiments as the following, which appeared in the Herald of Thursday morning. Discourtesy, not to say blackguardism, could scarcely go further than to publish such remarks on the occasion of the assembling in this city of a Convention of two hundred men of the highest respectability, many of them men of first-class ability and large influence, and known and numbered among the representative men of the State. It is gratifying to reflect that no other paper in Oregon would have published such an article. Here is a part of the Herald's characteristic diatribe:

> To-day Portland will see a Convention assemble composed of Pharisees from every part of Oregon. The God and morality party will be out in force. The men who thank (their) god that they are not like others, will come together and consult. The long faced, whining political preacher loaded down with chicken skins and the red nosed plunder snapper from the front seat will solemnly march together in the hal[illegible]. The skillet headed dupe who can only comprehend enough to echo what he hears, will be escorted by the sharper who turns jacks from the bottom. The individual with cranium like a conical shot, will march linked to the mild mannered engineer who feeds his prejudice and steers his canoe. The long haired bilk with his pocket full of tracts will meekly accompany the [illegible] rough with his pocket full of Ben Holladay's coin. All together when seated, will compose a motley crowd, fit to represent the party of false pretenses and cheap bribes. The first business on hand will be for all Pharisees dupes and hired roughs to unite in a Psalm to (their) god for blessings on the plunder snappers. The next will be to organize permanently by electing as chairman some shaky individual who has talked of asking questions.

The "Grasshopper Jim" editor of the Herald confesses that he could not read the inscriptions on the transparencies in the colored men's procession the other night. This was the fault of the editor's early education or the want of it perhaps, as the mottoes were quite plainly printed. If the editor will call at the colored school in this city he will find a dozen [illegible] colored urchins who can readily read the mottoes and explain their significance to him.

Hon William D Kelley having been requested to reconsider his determination not again to be a candidate for Congress has consented [illegible] provided that the Republicans [illegible] elect a nominating convention which shall approve a proper civil service bill and instruct the candidate nominated to make its principles the rule of action if elected [illegible] resenting the interference of representatives in the selection of subordinate employés at the public offices and workshops.

While Frank Blair has sunk into the [illegible] business forgetting his favor to lobby that Grant means the empire, we see painful evidences of vitality in Mr Lincoln's Postmaster General Montgomery Blair who has caused himself to be announced as a candidate for Congress in the Fifth Maryland District. Whatever may be said of Montgomery, he will be an improvement on the average Maryland Congressman in the matter of brains.

Judge Kelsay was renominated last evening for Judge of the Second Judicial District and J A Odell was nominated for Prosecuting Attorney.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION

At 11 A M April 7, the Republican State Convention was called to order by Major M P Berry chairman of the State Central Committee.

Mr J B Congle of Multnomah nominated Mr Thos G Young and on motion Mr Young was elected temporary Sergeant at Arms of the Convention.

The Committees having retired for the transaction of business referred to them a call was made upon Gov Woods to speak. The Governor rose and said "Gentlemen I acknowledge the compliment of this call but this is a time for business and not for speech making, and I therefore respectfully decline to make a speech."

Calls for "Applegate."

Mr Applegate responded and taking up the Democratic Platform, he spoke for three quarters of an hour in his inimitably humorous vein frequently calling out convulsive laughter or hearty applause.

PLATFORM

The Union Republican party of Oregon in Convention makes this declaration of its principles and policy:

1st Unfaltering devotion to the Union first last and forever, and unwavering fidelity to the Constitution [illegible] and the laws [illegible] National [illegible].

2d We [illegible] the principles and policy of the administration of President Grant as [illegible]

3d We have confidence that the Administration will wisely and firmly protect the interests and sustain the dignity of the Nation in respect to other nations and especially with regard to our just claims against Great Britain.

4th We denounce all forms of repudiation as a [illegible] crime and the national honor requires the payment of the public indebtedness in the strictest good faith to all creditors at home or abroad not only according to the letter but the spirit of the laws under which it was contracted. And for this purpose we favor a strict economy in the Administration of the National Government and the application to such payment of all surplus revenue from whatever sources derived and that taxation should be equalized and reduced as rapidly as the national faith will permit.

5th We make no distinction between citizens whether of foreign or native birth and that we sympathize now and ever with men of all nations [illegible] striving for self government.

6th That we are opposed to any change in our naturalization laws which shall admit to citizenship any foreigners not now entitled thereto under said laws.

7th We favor a judicious system of railroad and river improvements in Oregon in order to develop our resources and invite settlement of our unoccupied territory and for this purpose insist that Congress should make us liberal grants of aid.

8th We are in favor of a tariff for revenue with such discriminations in favor of our domestic manufactures as will not diminish its efficiency for the purposes of revenue.

9th We favor universal amnesty to the people of those States lately in rebellion which have been restored to full relations in the Union.

10th We are in favor of fostering the cause of education and are opposed to any diversion of the common school funds of this State to any other purpose than the support of common schools.

11th We recognize in the Union Republican party the measures and men who saved the Government from destruction, and that its continuance in power is the only sure safeguard to national peace and prosperity. And with this platform we appeal to the voters of Oregon for their suffrages and support.

NOMINATIONS

The nomination of a candidate for Congress then being next in order Hon Joseph G Wilson of Wasco county was nominated by acclamation. Tremendous cheering greeted this nomination and loud calls were made for Judge Wilson, who appeared and made a brief and telling speech thanking the convention and accepting the nomination.

Gen Joel Palmer of Yamhill county was then nominated for Governor by acclamation and came forward and made a few remarks accepting the nomination. Gov Woods was loudly called for, took the stand and with his thrilling eloquence held the convention and large audience as spell bound for about fifteen minutes after which Hon B Herman, of Douglas county offered the following which was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the thanks of the Republican party of Oregon are hereby tendered to our present able Governor for his services and fidelity to the cause of freedom and progress.

T B Odeneal, of Benton, James Elkins of Linn and O C Applegate of Jackson were nominated for Secretary of State. Mr Applegate withdrew his name, and the ballot being taken, James Elkins received 100 votes and T B Odeneal 86. On motion of Mr Odeneal, the nomination of Mr Elkins was made unanimous.

Hon S E May then came forward and taking the nominee by the hand congratulated him amid great cheering.

Meyer Hirsch, of Marion county was then nominated for State Treasurer by acclamation and he thanked the Convention for the honor and received three cheers from the audience.

For State Printer two ballots were taken, the second resulting as follows: H L Pittock 69, Henry Denlinger 59; H R Kincaid 43, D M C Gault 24, no one receiving a majority.

On motion, the Convention adjourned until ten o'clock this morning.

A SMASH —One of the East Portland [illegible] yesterday accidentally upset a stack of [illegible] boxes of eggs, and it is safe to say that [illegible] 150 dozen at least two thirds were broken. [illegible] appearance of the mess was appropriately [illegible] by a fellow who came suddenly upon [illegible] and after exploring the [illegible] looked up inquiringly and remarked, "By [illegible] that's a gob!"

SALT ARRIVED. The barkentine Jane A Falkinburg Capt Cathcart [illegible] Saturday morning in tow of the tug [illegible]. The Falkinburg brings a cargo of 400 tons of salt [illegible] McCraken Merrill & Co., from Honolulu [illegible] by the way of San Francisco at which [illegible] she lay for about ten days. She has [illegible] time on the voyage from San Francisco to [illegible] port.

FROM HONOLULU. The bark Cambridge [illegible] sailed from Honolulu on the 6th of March [illegible] port, reached here last night in tow of the [illegible] She crossed the bar on Tuesday in company with the Jane A Falkenburg. She is [illegible] with an assorted cargo of coffee, sugars [illegible] salt, valued at $35,[illegible] and her consignees are Messrs McCraken, Merrill & Co.

FREIGHT OF THE WALLAMET.—The [illegible] steamers [illegible] Capt Geo A P[illegible] and [illegible] Capt C H Kellogg have brought from this port from Oregon City as follows [illegible] days past: 86 boxes of apples, 237 boxes [illegible] 36 gunnies bacon, 7 kegs of butter, 564 [illegible] flour, 21 cases of lard, 12 sacks of [illegible] sacks of bran, 2 coops of fowls.

CITY.

THE CONCERT.—Circumstances conspired to prevent our attendance at the concert given at the First Presbyterian Church on Wednesday evening very much to our regret. Our cotemporaries were more fortunate and each have made mention of the concert from one of which the evening Commercial we quote: "The exercises were under the direction of Mr J B Wyatt and that finished Musical Director deserves praise for his services on the occasion. The rich toned Chickering Piano used was furnished by Mr W T Shanahan and is certainly a splendid instrument. Of the vocal and instrumental exercises we have not space to pass remarks as fully as we might. We will say however that of the quartettes by gentlemen one was very well sung that the solos were generally good, but two of them, by Miss Mayer, were sweetly charmingly executed. A bounteous Nature has endowed Miss Mayer with a voice of singularly full rich mellow tone, much compass and happy flexibility and it is evident that she has enjoyed the advantages ... [illegible] from a superior tutorship in the cultivation of these native powers. She is certainly an accomplished vocalist. The piano solo, by a young lady, was a splendid performance, and rarely, we imagine, has the opportunity been afforded a Portland audience to enjoy the delicious treat of music so thrillingly exquisite as that which charmed all present last evening. The flute duett, with guitar accompaniment, by gentlemen, was another beautifully executed performance. Of the choruses we can speak in befitting general terms, and say they were good."

FORTY TONS OF EGGS.—Not long ago it will be remembered, Oatman & Co were in distress [illegible] a superabundant supply of eggs on hand. It will be recollected also, that the firm [illegible] it would be necessary for them to adopt a plan of incubation to save themselves from loss [illegible] could not find the hens the plan was abandoned. We predict that somebody in San Francisco will be in like plight upon the arrival of the Montana there. That steamer yesterday took [illegible] from this port 400 tons of assorted [illegible] and of this amount 40 tons were of the [illegible] "eggs." In the San Francisco market [illegible] evening, Oregon eggs were quotable at [illegible] per dozen. But as a large number of [illegible] went by the same steamer, perhaps soon [illegible] there will not be caught as our friends [illegible] & Co. were. By the time the steamer California, the hens may, perhaps, be in good condition to lay.

[illegible] GREAT EATERS.—Dr. Hall says that [illegible] eaters never live long. A voracious appetite so far from being a sign of good health is [illegible] indication of disease. Some dispeptics [illegible] and feel better when eating [illegible] as soon as they have finished eating, they endure [illegible] so distressing in their nature as to make the unhappy victim wish for death. The [illegible] appetite is that which is inclined to eat [illegible] when [illegible] time comes, and which [illegible] leaves no unpleasant reminders. [illegible] measure their health by the quantity [illegible] and out of ten persons, nine are gratified with an increase of weight, when in reality [illegible] is an increase in disease, showing that [illegible] of the system are too weak to discharge [illegible] duty, and the tendency to fatness, to [illegible] until existence becomes a burden [illegible] death closes the painful history.

[illegible]—The steamer Montana, of the [illegible] Capt. F Bolles in command, [illegible] for San Francisco at 4 o'clock last [illegible] The following went as passengers: C [illegible] Miss Clara Langley, S W Raveley [illegible] D Robb and 2 children, J G [illegible] G P Lacy, J H Adams and wife [illegible] E Lenders, M Hoffman, E B Com[illegible] W Cree, J H Markis, Geo Watt, H E Leon[illegible] W A Wells and wife, Miss Lena Goodman, [illegible] and wife, E Pollock, T B Edwards [illegible] J W Gilbert, A Meyer, W D McFar[illegible] J W Gilbert, G R Furstenthal, Wells [illegible] wager, and 20 in the steerage.

[illegible] PARTY.—The calico party given by the [illegible] Society at their Hall last [illegible] was a very interesting occasion, socially [illegible] every other way. The attendance of ladies [illegible] attired in the manner they were, really [illegible] to shine more brightly, in our [illegible] than as when the graces [illegible] are compelled to be second [illegible] Why cannot our ladies see these [illegible] as they really are, and adopt attire which [illegible] than detract from, their own [illegible]

[illegible] FOR THE WEEK.—For the week ending with last evening twenty two applications [illegible] have been made at the Labor Exchange [illegible] in this city. Farmers in want of help [illegible] this place. The following are the [illegible] and number in each: Bakers, 2, [illegible] porters, 2, cooks, 3, laborers, [illegible] nurse, 1, dairyman, 1, boy, [illegible] teamster, 1, waiter, 1, saw mill [illegible] 22.

[illegible]—One of the East Portland truckmen, [illegible] accidentally upset a stack of half dozen [illegible] eggs, and it is safe to say that of the [illegible] at least two-thirds were broken. The [illegible] of the mass was appropriately des[illegible] fellow who came suddenly upon the [illegible] after exploring the lump a moment, [illegible] inquiringly and remarked, "By gosh [illegible]"

[illegible] ARRIVED.—The barkentine Jane A [illegible] Capt. Cathcart, master, arrived yesterday [illegible] in tow of the tug Astoria. The [illegible] brings a cargo of 400 tons of salt to [illegible] Merrill & Co., from Honolulu. She [illegible] by way of San Francisco, at which port [illegible] about ten days. She has made good [illegible] the voyage from San Francisco to this [illegible]

FROM HONOLULU.—The bark Cambridge, which [illegible] from Honolulu on the 6th of March for this [illegible] arrived here last night in tow of the Okanagon. She crossed the bar on Tuesday in company with the Jane A. Falkenberg. She is freighted [illegible] cargo of coffee, sugars, pulu and [illegible] valued at [illegible] 85, and her consignees [illegible] Merrill & Co.

[illegible] WILLAMETTE.—The P. T. Co.'s [illegible] Capt. Geo. A. Pease, and Senator [illegible] Kellogg, have brought freight to this port from Oregon City as follows for two [illegible] 88 boxes of apples; 237 boxes eggs, [illegible] bacon, 5 kegs of butter, 564 sacks of [illegible] 24 cases of lard, 712 sacks of oats, 44 [illegible] of bran, 23 coops of fowls.

[illegible] POST OFFICES.—Johnson's atlas for 1864, contains twenty-six closely printed pages, naming [illegible] post-offices in the United States, giving to [illegible] the county and State. By a reference to [illegible] list, which is alphabetically made, it will be [illegible] at once how important it is to write [illegible] the name of county and State as well as [illegible] in subscribing a letter.

[illegible]—The ancient structure known as [illegible] & Flanders' Store, has finally been settled [illegible] in the new location and will soon be [illegible] as a storage room by some of our city dealers in imported goods who are frequently [illegible] for the time being to hunt up places to [illegible] an excess of arrivals over shipments.

MODEL CLASS REGISTER.—Mr S. K. Warren has placed on our table a model register and teacher's memorandum, designed for recording the scholarship and attendance of classes in colleges, academies and schools. There are several things about it to recommend it as to plans also etc.

RETURNED.—Hon D P Thompson returned from an extended tour to the Atlantic States last evening, via the Union Pacific Railroad and the Columbia River route. He is looking remarkably well, but as if he were glad to again be in Oregon. He has been absent about six months.

ANOTHER THIEVING OPERATION.—One night this week another thieving operation was discovered and which amounts to something. If Major Berry does not get a haul out of Portland yet, pretty soon it will not be because the material for convicts is short in the community.

NOT ALL HERE.—Portland has not all the thieves within the limits of her corporation. We observe that the selectmen of a Con[illegible] town advertise a reward of $25 for the return of a stolen hearse "with the body of the thief inside." When men get to stealing hearses that beats us.

LIGHTED BY GAS.—The store of Messrs. Pope [illegible] Oregon City, is now lighted with gas generated in the establishment by one of the patent [illegible] gas generators.

[illegible] Fowls.—Twenty well packed and substantial coops of fowls were on the list of freight by the M[illegible] for San Francisco yesterday. The lot comprised turkeys, geese, ducks, and chickens. This is the largest shipment of poultry ever made to California from this port in one day.

REPAIRING CABLE.—The tug F[illegible] and a barge were in use yesterday in taking up the telegraph cable across the Willamette at this city to splice and repair breaks. The line will now be in working order to the Dalles.

MILLINERY.—Mrs Snyder announces [illegible] she has [illegible] of her spring supply of the latest styles of hats and bonnets and fancy and millinery goods, and invites all to examine them.

LEFT FIRST STREET.—The building which is being removed to Third street from the site of Hon H W Corbett's new brick on First street, left the latter street yesterday forever.

DISABLED.—The steamer Alert was disabled yesterday, and the Senator took her place making two trips in the time. The Alert will probably resume her trips to-day.

SERENADE.—The Aurora Band serenaded the nominees of the Convention last evening. The OREGONIAN office acknowledges a call.

CALIFORNIA

From San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO, April 7.—Last evening an entire stranger stopping at the St Louis hotel on Pacific street burned up some papers, took off his coat and boots remarking that they would be good for somebody else, said "Good bye boys I'm off for another world," ran down to the end of Pacific street wharf, jumped overboard and was rescued by officer Devlin, Wm Evans and W McCortney with a boat while still breathing but died on the way to the county hospital in a wagon.

The women's suffrage meeting last evening was very thinly attended. There was a general wrangle and confusion, amusing to outsiders. Mrs Field made a very sensible speech in opposition to the movement. Mr Lakeman made a speech in favor of foreign born male citizens. An appeal was made for new members, none joined, and after oratorical demonstrations adjourned.

A dispatch from Washington orders the release of liquors seized here by Revenue officers on charge of adulteration, the Government chemist having certified that he finds no foreign substances in them.

Trouble about the Yerba Buena park is still increasing. This morning on Donohue going on the ground, about a thousand men gathered around him. There was great excitement. Holders of tickets numbered 23 and 24 demanded that all be set at work at once as promised by Col Holt or that number ones be discharged also. Donohue attempted to make a speech, said the work had all been taken out of his hands by Commissioners. He wished therefore to knock off all the men and throw up all connection with the matter. He soon got out of the crowd and ran towards Mission Dolores pursued by men with shovels, some of whom called for a rope to hang him with. All work is stopped and the crowd is now waiting the action of the Mayor and Col Holt. Many are threatening violence and the most moderate are greatly exasperated. Many have come in from the country on hearing of this work and mingled with the crowd, doubling the original number. So far as the city is concerned money thus far expended might as well have been thrown into the bay as no practical good was accomplished and expectations are raised which cannot be fulfilled. The men charge that the contractors are paying men $30 per month and sent employees to draw tickets, that Donohue gave all his personal friends tickets privately, that the contractors employed carts, etc. They will almost assuredly hang Donohue if they catch him again. It is doubtful, even if the whole proceeding is not illegal as the City Hall bill which passed subsequent to the $50,000 appropriation bill provides that the Park shall be graded by contract. The Commissioners decided to pay off all men for work thus far done on Yerba Buena Park to-morrow, and have sent out a man to get the names of all who have worked and will swear each man as to the amount of labor performed.

The National Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows last session authorized Grand Sire Farnsworth to introduce Odd Fellowship into Germany, Japan and other countries provided he do it without expense to the Grand Lodge of the United States. Last night he visited Templar Lodge.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 7.—The soldier who committed suicide by jumping off of Pacific wharf last night was Patrick Ferguson. He had served three enlistments in the United States army, and was an unsuccessful applicant for appointment as machinist at Mare Island.

John Jackson, aged 30 years, from Newark, who was to have commenced work to-day in the Recorder's office, died suddenly to-day at his room, corner of Halleck and Liedesdorf street—possibly a case of suicide.

Odd Fellows are preparing to celebrate the anniversary of the establishment of the Order by a joint excursion to Saucelito on the 26th.

During the past week 808 ounces of gold and 5 390 ounces of silver were deposited for coinage in San Juan Mint.

Tom Hyer a well-known citizen of unmixed African descent applied to the Assessor to-day for registry as a voter. The Assessor requesting time to examine authorities, Hyer withdrew form al application for a few days. It is understood the Assessor desired the opinion of the Attorney General before taking action on the 15th Amendment question.

The laborers now look upon the entire appropriation of fifty thousand as theirs by right. Many threaten violence unless work be resumed and the entire sum expended.

Hans Breitmann seems to have written a travestry on "Excelsior," by which the rapidly fading Shoo Fly is for a few brief hours galvanized into new life. The first two stanzas run in this way:

> Der efening-clouds was sghilling fast,
> As a young man drough der fillage bassed
> Shhading along mid der shdorm and hail
> Mit dese vords tied on his coad dail
> Shoo fly
> Oh don't go such a night like dose
> His mudder gries. You will get froze
> Dot John Frost dat will nib your ear."
> He softly said so mit a shneer,
> "Shoo fly

Then the old man and the young maid tell him to stop, but—

> Higher und higher dat young man vent
> For the shdorms he dond not care a cent,
> As he viped dat shnow off his left ear
> Dem vords vas hurd sdill shdrong und glear—
> "Shoo fly

In a single instance Noah Webster used his dictionary to set forth a sentiment not connected with philology, using a definition after the style so frequently exemplified by Dr. Johnson. Under the word "vicegerent" he says "Kings are sometimes called God's vicegerents. It is to be wished they would always deserve the appellation." This remark was retained until the last edition of the work. One would as soon have expected to find wit in the Congressional reports of the Globe.

POLITICAL NOTES

Gen Hersey and ex Governor Anson P. Morrill are named for the Gubernatorial nomination in Maine.

The New Hampshire House of Representatives stands Republican 19, Democratic 117, Labor Reformers 16. Clear Republican majority 60.

Verily there are some plucky, frank and fearless Democrats in Williams county, Ohio. These gentlemen are among the truest and most faithful to the instincts of the party, for they have one hundred and eight of them called a meeting of all who are in favor of repudiating the bonded debt of the United States, with a view to the election of a member of Congress of like repudiating faith, if faith it be not absurd to call it. They are precisely in accord with the Democratic party of Oregon, all of whom are on the same platform with the one hundred and eight in Ohio.

It is said that Gen. Robert E. Lee has never read a history of the rebellion. It is not difficult to understand the reason. Of them all he was the greatest traitor and it must be conceded that of the rebel leaders scarcely another has done so little as Gen Lee to heal the nation. Not a regret for the past or a wish for the future has escaped him. No one knows that he would not do the same thing again. His influence for good is not felt. In this his influence for bad is positive if not great. He went into the rebellion in a manner of greatest discredit to himself. He came out of it and remains in an attitude equally discreditable. It must be the judgment of impartial men that scarcely another of the rebel leaders has done so little to redeem himself as Gen. R. E. Lee.

AGENTS WANTED to canvass for that thrilling highly exciting narrative "PRIEST AND NUN." A few hundred dollars can be made in a short time. Address Mrs. Fuset Turner, Portland, or apply at the OREGONIAN Office, up stairs between 3 and 5 P. M. for terms and territory.

What does Reason say?

The little mongoose when bitten by a deadly serpent resorts to a certain plant, eats of it and escapes the effect of the poison. That is instinct. Human beings on the other hand must depend on reason and experience in selecting the means of protecting health and life against unwholesome influences. Now what does reason say on this vital subject? Does it not tell us that to invigorate and purify the system is the best way to protect it against the invisible poison which generates disease? Surely it does. The next question is what guide shall we follow in choosing a medicinal safeguard. Reason replies let your monitor be experience. Well the experience of eighteen years comprised in one unbroken series of satisfactory testimonials assures us that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters possesses strengthening, regulating and antiseptic properties which are not combined in the same happy proportions in any other preparation extant. This therefore is the antidote to which reason bids us resort when our health is imperiled [illegible] malaria which produces epidemic [illegible] or cause whether inherent and [illegible] connected with our habits, occupations and pursuits.

The [illegible] impure water. To escape the fevers, bilious disorders, disturbances of the bowels and other serious maladies produced by these insalubrious elements it is necessary that the stomach and all the secretive organs [illegible] to speak in a robust condition. Upon the amount of resistance which the vital system [illegible] the deleterious influences that assail it [illegible] health depends, and it is because the GREAT VEGETABLE [illegible] imparts energy and regularity to the [illegible] functions of the body that it can be [illegible] guaranteed as an invaluable preventive [illegible]

INSTRUCTIONS TO MARSHALS

The following circular has been [illegible] at the United States Marshal's office in this city

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR
WASHINGTON D C March 11 1870

In arranging for the subdivision of their districts according to the instructions contained in circular from this department under date of February 26 1870 Marshals will have reference to the fact that the Act of May 1850, requires that the Assistant Marshals shall be the actual enumerator

Subdivisions cannot be formed in whole or in part Section 13 makes it the duty of the Assistant Marshal to personally visit each family in his subdivision and [illegible] inquiries collect the information required for returns on all the schedules [illegible] bered 5 in the law of 1850 and [illegible] as printed for the census of 1860

This duty cannot be performed by deputy or proxy There can be but one Assistant Marshal in a subdivision at any one time and in case the Assistant Marshal becomes from any cause unable to carry forward the enumeration without serious interruption, the law requires that his commission shall be revoked and another Assistant appointed in his stead

This rule is not only a requirement of law it is one of essential justice and of the highest expediency Its violation is a wrong to the citizen, as subjecting his family and his affairs to inquiry by unauthorized and irresponsible persons.

Moreover, it robs the real enumerator of a portion of his rightful compensation

The rates of payment allowed for this service by the Act of 1850 must be assumed in the absence of any information to the contrary, to be sufficient at the present census But if that payment is to be divided between one party holding the contract and another party doing the work it is certain that the compensation will be found inadequate to secure capable and reputable enumerators

All that the law allows for this service must be paid to the men who actually do the work, going from house to house, from farm to farm, and from shop to shop, collecting the statistics of population and industry It is upon the character and capacity of these officers that the country must depend for the value of the coming census, and no arrangement will be tolerated which goes to deprive them of any portion of the compensation allowed them by law.

Marshals will keep this fact distinctly in view, and will form their subdivisions with express reference to their enumeration by single Assistants. In any case where the subdivision of a district has already been arranged without sufficient reference to this consideration, correction will at once be made of the fault

The requirements of the law in this respect will be strictly enforced. General publication will be made of the fact, so that citizens may be advised of their rights as against parties not properly authorized to make inquiries, and information will be solicited of all violations of the law in this respect

FRANCIS A WALKER Supt of Census

The "Bull-Puncher,"

Foremost in woodcraft and I think in number, are a class of men hailing from Maine They and their father before them fell and measured the forest giants of that land where, it is said, they pry up the morning sun and these truants from the Penobscot and Kennebec know but one desire, ask but one question, upon arriving upon our coast "Have you got any good cross-cut saws and axes?" Having obtained these, with an instinct born in them, they strike for the timber, where they want home. After a tree is felled and [illegible] into required lengths, the "bull-puncher" with his team, drags it to mill or railway landing [illegible]

This "bull-puncher" deserves more than [illegible] mention. He, like the chopper, generally hails from Maine, and may be generally known from a distance, though unseen, by [illegible] of some of the forcible adjectives he uses The art of "bull punching" must be born in a man. Practice and application may render a man tolerably expert, but [illegible] intended by nature for the calling can for any length of time, stand the whooping, yelling, insane capers and madness indulged in by the "bull-puncher" He is armed with a short stick garnished at one end with a sharp steel brad, in this wise differing from the "bull-whacker" of the Plains notoriety, for which he expresses a supreme contempt. Your correspondent had the pleasure of seeing one start a log of about [illegible] feet with four yoke of cattle. The sight was truly an amazing one and not [illegible] to be forgotten. The puncher after [illegible] the iron dog deep into the log and giving [illegible] affectionate prod with his [illegible] the animals tugged [illegible] yokes, but the one [illegible] remained immovable [illegible] called each [illegible] sank into [illegible] kindled the cor [illegible] anticipation [illegible] the "puncher" [illegible] whole [illegible] to unloose [illegible] full six feet [illegible] gave vent [illegible] of stunning adjectives [illegible] together with a quantity of tobacco juice, rushed from the orifice of his face like a column of water in a mill sluice. He [illegible] like a gadfly, punching, [illegible] kicking, begging, imploring, [illegible] on the ground and roared [illegible] and hit the off lead [illegible] with both heels in the flank, swore his immortal spirit was eternally mixed up, and jammed his brad into the nigh leader until he [illegible] tugged and strained until [illegible] the ground, and they [illegible] as if they were about to burst in [illegible] The log grated on the ground and moved, the team straightened themselves and [illegible] "bull-puncher," quietly remarking, "whoa haw, Baldy!" passed on as if nothing had happened He is well paid for his services and ought to be It is not every mortal that could go through the above performance for a month —S. F. Bulletin.

Public Expenses and Public Credit

In the House of Representatives, March 14th Mr. Garfield, of Ohio, discussing the Deficiency bill, made a comparison of the expenditures of Johnson's and Grant's administrations He said

"The expenditure in the second year of Andrew Johnson's Administration was $346 000,000 The [illegible] year it was $377,000,000, an increase of $31 000,000. For the fiscal year ending June 30 1869, but four months of which were under Gen Grant, the expenditures fell to $321,000 000—a falling off of $56,000,000 in a single year The year to close next June by the showing of the Secretary of the Treasury, would bring the expenditures down to $292,000,000 There was the progress made there was the difference between the Democratic and Republican Administrations Then, as to the receipts of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1869, the amount of taxes collected was $356,000 000, for this year the amount [illegible] from the same sources would be $396 000 000 without the increase of a dollar of a cent in the rate of taxation The collection of tax on distilled spirits, for the last six months of Mr John son's Administration, when the tax was $2 a gallon, amounted to $13,500 000 for the corresponding six months of Mr Grant's Administration, when the tax was only one-fourth, it amounted [illegible] The incoming of Mr Grant's Administration had given new life to the credit and faith of the American people. From losing credit from getting behind the scale had been turned Within the last year there had been a decrease of $90,000,000 in the public debt, and the credit of the Government had been steadily appreciating One line of United States bonds was now worth more than gold the premium on gold was falling the value of American securities everywhere was appreciating And why? Precisely because such doctrines as were advocated on the other side of the House in relation to the public debt had been put down by the people, and the faith of the country upheld by the party in power

Mr. Schenck, in reply to remarks by Mr Niblack, said, The comparison between the last and the present Administrations was to be determined not merely by economy in expenditures but also by wise action in the collection of the revenue For the year ending June 30 1869 with all the advantage derived from the payment of the tax on spirits taken out of bond and the advantage derived from the reduction of the tax from $2 to

there [illegible] collected from whisky [illegible] certain the amount [illegible] for the year ending January [illegible] 1869 and it was [illegible] tobacco for the year ending June 1869 was $22 430 [illegible] and for the year ending January 1870 $28 2 7 000 being a rate of increase of nearly $1 000 [illegible] The whole revenue collected from Internal Revenue for the year ending June 30 1869 was $159 124 1[illegible] and for the year ending January [illegible] 900 [illegible] What [illegible] the laws [illegible] reference to our [illegible] the Administration was conducted with a view [illegible] to every question connected with the [illegible]

An event not common in our diplomatic history has occurred in the banquet recently given by Minister Motley to the Queen of the Netherlands It is of late years that our literary men have been [illegible] for the old regime of political hacks [illegible] have witnessed a meeting so graceful and so fitting as this between the historian and the Queen [illegible] had studied and written [illegible] Nor was there on this occasion any incongruity in the attendance of such men as Dickens Grote Collins, Hughes, Froude and Robert Browning Formerly such men might have found themselves awkwardly out of place at a diplomatic gathering But the day of literary pensioners has passed and we may hail this event as a sign that the true aristocracy of intellect is recognized —the pen mightier than the sword —the truth mightier than the lie.

Horrible Diseases

How many thousands of persons both male and female, are there who are suffering untold horrible existence from the effects of secret indulgences of from virus absorbed into the system Look at their pallid emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions disqualify them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene [illegible] parents guardians friends attend to the sons or daughters suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies—see that they are cared for and cured before it is too late Send them immediately to Doct r Gibbon physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs It is important to those who are afflicted or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends to be careful [illegible] pretended doctors who infest all cities publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans

Seminal Weakness

Seminal Emissions the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice or depraved sexual indulgence is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty the following train of morbid symptoms unless combatted by scientific medication, such as Sallow countenance dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots uneasiness about the loins weakness of the limbs confused vision blunted intellect, loss of confidence diffidence in approaching strangers a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society loss of memory, hectic flushes; pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue fetid breath coughs consumption, night sweats monomania and frequently insanity If relief be not obtained should apply immediately, either in person or by letter and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure Dr G will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of his complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure or make no charge

Caution to the Unfortunate

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who will bogus swear to certificates do get up many Some of the self styled doctors whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco a [illegible] the places are tradesmen and became too lazy to work at their trades Some are tinsmiths [illegible] makers newspaper carriers [illegible] etc look over the San Francisco directory and you will not find their Medical Institutes [illegible] will find their former occupations in it Look at the directory for 1862 and 1863 The only way to avoid imposition is to make enquiry—it will cost you nothing, and may save you many regrets; for as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus there is safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are Dr Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles certificates, [illegible] letters [illegible] call at his office of his ability to treat diseases [illegible] proposes to cure
